Bricklaying

Campus: Rotherham College

Code: RFECN001d

Type: Full Time | Part Time

About This Course

The aim of the Scheme is to prepare students for work in the bricklaying trade.

It provides a progression route towards achieving an NVQ or Diploma/Technical Certificate.

The Scheme also enables the students to acquire and demonstrate both practical skills and construction knowledge giving:

- an ability to perform practical tasks, related to bricklaying
- the necessary competence in practical, communication and task planning to industrial standards

What Will I Study?

Level 1: Developing basic bricklaying skills and employability skills, which is an important aspect to the success of the student. In order to implement this effectively it is important that the Scheme reflects current trends and current construction practices. It will therefore allow students to:

- develop a positive mindset that mirrors employment, attendance, punctuality and a good standard of behaviour
 - develop their practical skills to industrial standards
 - interpret information from a drawing and specification to construct a wall to industrial standards
 - develop communication and leadership skills through learning sessions and tutorials
 - the scheme will also enhance numeracy and literacy skills through lessons and Functional Skills
 - tutor feedback and Q&A will encourage and develop reflective thinking developing employability skills
- Level 2: is taking these skills from a Basic Level to the next Level of ability to improve and mould those skills to a more professional standard.

Level 3: is to take those skills to an Advanced Level, enabling students to progress to either HNC/HND or T Level in Design Surveying and Planning.

Why Study Here?

Excellent staff who are qualified to Industrial Standards, knowledge and experience of working within the Construction Industry and experience in teaching Brickwork in College to SkillBuild Competition standard.
